Wilmington, Mass.

21ST YEAR - NO. 29 | 658-2346 | JULY 15, 1976 | 364 MIDDLESEX AVE., WILMINGTON | TWENTY CENTS

Dave Dingle's Double Day

Tuesday was a Double Day, for Dave Dingle of 13 West Street. Dave is well known. He has been a candidate for election to the Wilmington School Committee on several occasions. He never quite made it.

Monday night the selectmen and the school committee elected Dave a member, to fill the vacancy by the resignation of Harry Landers, who has moved to Pennsylvania.

Tuesday morning Dave went down to the Postoffice, and picked up a check for $1000, from the Massachusetts Lottery. That's right - he had hit the right number.

Then he went down to the Town Hall and was sworn in to his new office. It was a Double Day for Dave Dingle.

Peat removal denied

The Selectmen, Monday night denied to the Jackson Brothers the right to remove 10,000 yards of peat from property on Andover Street, south of Route 125. The Jackson Brothers did not know just where they would move the material.

Fred Jackson told the selectmen that the Conservation Commission had granted permission to move out the peat and fill with gravel. This has been done.

He has tried to find a purchaser. So far, none.

Smashing windows

During the past few weeks many business establishments in Wilmington have had their windows smashed by vandals.

A barber shop which has suffered this indignity many times is having its big window taken out, and two smaller ones put in. Stores in North Wilmington have been subjected to repeated breaking of glass, before and during the holiday.

In the area of Main and Lowell Streets there are firms which have had so many windows smashed that things are just not funny.

Selectman Danny Gillis took note of these events, Monday evening, in the selectmen's meeting. He declared the police must stop the breaking of windows. Businessmen, he stated, are being continually faced with threats. "Get these punks, and have them taken in".

Gillis added: "Don't tell me the judges are being lenient! We cleaned up the Hobson Avenue gang!"

AFTER THE BATTLE MOTHER: Last weekend some person unknown tried to stuff a bag of rubbish and garbage through a Town Hall window, possibly in protest, possibly for another reason. The photo was made the following morning.

Gillis declared war, Monday, on Sterling Morris

A. Daniel Gillis, selectman, declared war on Town Manager Sterling Morris, Monday night in the selectmen's meeting. His decision, he declared was irrivocable.

Seemingly the cause was the Town HManager had used the term "Honey" in talking to one of the two ladies who report news of the selectmen's meeting. The incident occured several weeks ago.

It was at about the time that the two girls were trying to get the individual opinions of the selectmen, relative to the town dump question, and were asking questions of the selectmen during their business meeting. The Town Crier reported that the chairman had to tell them both to stop, twice.

Then, or about then, one of the girls asked the Town Manager a question during a discussion of the selectmen. He answered briefly, intent on the discussion at the table, and in his answer used the word "Honey."

This was the reason that Gillis used, in his declaration of war.

Planning Board wants information

The Wilmington Planning Board seeks more information about an Official Map Hearing which the Board of Selectmen conducted some time ago.

The hearing was for land in North Wilmington, off Mystic Avenue. The land is owned by the Reitchel family.

The records of the hearing, as they appear to the Planning Board, show that the selectmen granted approval for "one" houselot. The Reitchel family has told the Planning Board they requested the right for two lots, and that was what was granted.

On June 21 the Planning Board voted that a map submitted by the Reitchel family required a public hearing, before approval. This was because their information was seemingly incomplete.

Tuesday evening the Planning Board repeated their vote. They have no more information. But they will reconsider, if they receive a letter detailing the information as to what happened in the previous hearing, and the letter is signed by a majority of the selectmen.

Planning Board seeks assistant

The Wilmington Planning Board is seeking an assistant, for part time work, 20 hours a week. The pay is understood to be $4 an hour. The vacancy has existed since the former assistant, Roger Watkins, left last June to work in Boston University.

The assistant is wanted to assist in the preparation of a program for a sign bylaw, and to "square off" studies on the new Zoning Enabling Act, better known as Chapter 808.

Tuesday night the board voted to send a letter to the Town Manager which in effect recommends a Wilmington resident for the job, which, it is said, will last until sometime next spring or summer.

Rubbish discussions

Selectmen back Town Manager

Selectman James Miceli stated, Monday, that he is to meet tonight with Tewksbury selectmen, in the Merrimack Valley Selectmen's Association, and he hopes to have an opportunity to talk with their chairman, Norman Boudreau. Mr. Miceli is hopeful of arriving at a peaceful settlement with reference to the "refuse war" between Wilmington and Tewksbury.

He and three others adopted a position of backing up the Town Manager in the discussions with Tewksbury, Monday evening. Danny Gillis was not in the group.

Mr. Gillis had been named in the Town Crier and the Lowell newspaper as having called Tewksbury selectmen and made light of the fact that Wilmington's Town Manager was threatening to cut off the sewerage dumping, by Tewksbury contractors, in the MDC sewers of Wilmington.

Gillis' fellow selectmen did not view this story, as reported, lightly. They emphasized that they were hopeful to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion, but they were backing the Town Manager, in his position, vis-a-vis Tewksbury rubbish and sewage disposal.

Biff Gately in Ontario

William (Biff) Gately, 15-year-old student from Birchwood Road, Wilmington is in Ontario, on a month trip arranged by the Wilmington Lions Club. Biff is at St. Mary's, Ontario, 100 miles from Toronto.

St. Mary's has a population of just over 4,000. It is farming country, but he is not on a farm. He is staying with a family named McLean. There is a boy from France, a girl from New Zealand also staying with the McLean family.

They will stay at the McLean home for two weeks, and then go to a camp where 50 young people from 12 countries will meet for a few days, after which Biff will return to the McLean family.

A Report by the Town Manager of Wilmington

Refuse Disposal System Cost Last Year

During the last fiscal year (July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976) the Town voted to raise, for the disposal of solid waste, the sum of $145,400. The service that was provided under this budget figure included a privately-owned dump facility, steel containers at municipally-owned buildings, and weekly pickup of garbage from any household that wanted the service. We also allocated the services of the Highway Department for seven to ten working days for the annual pickup of large bulky household items. The estimated cost for this item for labor and equipment is $8,750. The combined total budget therefore, to provide the basic refuse disposal for fiscal 1976 was $145,-400 as shown on the Table of Cost enclosed.

This Year

For the current fiscal year (July 1, 1976 to June 30, 1977) the Town voted to raise the sum of $181,900 for the disposal of solid waste. The system of disposal, however, required a change as a result of certain court action instigated by the plaintiff, the Dept. of Environmental Quality Engineering of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through Mr. Francis S. Bellotti, Attorney General, against the Town of Wilmington and Mr. Clem Spinazola, operator of the private solid waste disposal site. The court action and resulting Consent Roder, entered into by all the parties, prohibited the disposal site operator, Mr. Clem Spinazola, from operating a refuse disposal facility, and prevented the Town of Wilmington from entering into a contract with Mr. Spinazola until such time as the Spinazola landfill facility is operated in accordance with Mass. General Laws and certain regulations for the Disposal of Solid Waste as approved by the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

For the current fiscal year which started on July 1, 1976, the Town now has residential door-to-door pickup of garbage and rubbish, refuse container service for all municipal buildings, and weekly and twice-a-year disposal of any large household item for the annual cost of $165,000. This sum represents an increase of $19,600 over the budget figure of last year or about 14 cents per $1,000 of valuation on the tax rate. If your house is valued at $20,000 the added cost is $2.80 per year for door-to-door pickup of all solid waste.

If you previously contracted individually for rubbish removal from your home, with the new municipal refuse disposal service, you now have a reduction in your cost of about $20.00 per year, which is the equivalent of a one dollar reduction on your tax rate.

In final observation, the cost to a homeowner for the added service of door-to-door pickup and disposal of garbage and rubbish out-of-town is either a reduction of $20,000 per year or, on a home valued at $20,000, it is an added cost of $2.80 per year for the combined refuse service.

Special Town Meeting
Planning Board trumps the Selectmen's Jack

Wilmington's selectmen, Monday night, issued a call for a Special Town Meeting, to be held July 29 in the High School. There was no avoidance of the call. Three women had been in their meeting, had not submitted a petition for a town meeting, but had later mailed in that petition, with about 1,000 signatures. They have not made an appearance since.

There wasn't much enthusiasm on the part of the selectmen. The law says that 200 signatures means a special town meeting. This town meeting, however, would be unique in that there is no valid article, as of Monday night. There can be no discussion, without an article in the warrant, or a duly constituted committee report and proposal for action.

The call for the special town meeting is to "talk about the dump." That is all. That is not a valid article.

The selectmen decided against accepting articles that might be submitted by individuals. There is a doubt about a quorum - why confuse the situation? That seemed to be their thinking.

They left the way open for submission of an article by the Shawsheen Valley Technical High School, asking for money which was refused at the annual town meeting.

That left a door open, for the Wilmington Planning Board. Tuesday night that board voted to submit an article.

For several years the Planning Board has been trying to get a vote in the Town Meeting to establish a Board of Appeals, for cases involving appeals on Official Map rulings. The Selectmen have conducted such hearings rather than have an appeal board. The Planning Board and others think the statutes say differently.

Articles have been submitted to the Town Meeting, but have died on the floor for want of action. The last such article was Article 40 of the 1975 annual town meeting.

The selectmen were not visibly happy about having to call a special town meeting without a valid warrant article. Now the Planning Board has provided that article - if the selectmen will accept it.

Compugraphic initial dividend

Compugraphic Corporation of Wilmington has reported record sales and earnings, for the third quarter of the fiscal year. It has announced that it has established a quarterly dividend policy.

For the three months ending June 26 the company reported sales rose 37% from a year ago, to $26,254,000. Earnings per share were 95¢ in the third quarter, on 2,-163,000 shares outstanding, compared to 84¢ on 1,857,000 shares on the comparable period of a year ago.

For the nine months ending June 26 Compugraphic has reported sales of $70.4 millions, up 26% from a year earlier. Net income was $5.4 millions, a 27% gain from the previous year. Earnings per share were $2.76 for the first nine months, compared to $2.35 in the comparable period of last year.

The Board of Directors voted the establishment of a quarterly cash dividend policy, beginning with five cents a share, to be paid on August 9th to stockholders of record of July 26th.

Webelos notes

Cool breezes, and inviting lake, and blue, cloudless skies made the setting for the 1976 Webelos over night at Camp Wah-Tut-Ca in Northwood, N.H. Pack 63, sponsored by St. Thomas' Church was the largest in attendence with 14 boys and 10 fathers and leaders.

During the weekend the boys had a slight taste of what camping will be like when they enter training as Boy Scouts. Some of the activities that were enjoyed were: archery, ecology training, map reading, swimming, boating, handicrafts and body building.

As a finale for the overnight the staff of the camp sponsored a typical campfire for the boys. Singing, awards, skits, ect., were enjoyed. The only skit to be put on by any of the packs present was by Pack 63 and was entitled "The Rip-Off." In closing the campfire, the boys, fathers and leaders were led in song by Brother James F. Profirio of Pack 63 who was chaplain-in-residence for the weekend.

The two men responsible for the wonderful weekend are Richard Lesperance and Joseph Hartka. These two men took it upon themselves to volunteer their time in planning the activities for the weekend along with the regular camp staff.

The next activity for the boys will be the Cub Olympics to be held on the 28th of August in Tewksbury.

The Fourth of July House had a birthday party

Part of the Bicentennial celebration in Wilmington, on July 3 was a birthday party for a house.

Traditionally the home of the Passmore family, at 94 Andover Road in North Wilmington, was raised on July 4, 1776 - the day of the Declaration of Independence. The "raising" of a house, in Colonial days, was the erection of the timbers of the home, by a group of workmen under the direction of a Master Carpenter. Nailing the boards, shingles, etc. came later.

The house at 94 Andover Street is believed to be the only house able to celebrate its birthday with the United States of America.

A group of Wilmington Minutemen fired a salute, at sundown, outside the home to start the festivities. Later there were fireworks - rockets, etc.

About 200 guests were present, for dancing on the tennis court. The dancing was led by the Skirts and Flitrs, Wilmington Square Dance Club.

Hauled off in the Paddy Wagon

It isn't every man who can say that the police hauled him off, in the Paddy Wagon - nor every woman either. Generally speaking it is not a delightful experience. Paddy Wagons, historically, have been used to pick up drunks and other characters, by the police.

Pat Gately, of Birchwood Road, North Wilmington can report, truthfully, that she was hauled off, by the Boston Police, in the Paddy Wagon, not too long ago. Pat happens to be a Wilmington Policewoman, but it was not a trip of professional courtesy, showing one cop what another cop can do.

Pat, and her husband and friends were on the Esplanade, for the Bicentennial Pops Concert, in Boston. That is the event which, the Boston papers reported, had 400,000 attendees, and not one injury.

The Boston papers were wrong. There were 399,999 who were not injured. Pat was.

She was hit in the scalp by a flying stone, while she was seated in the grass, near the Shell on the Esplanade. The stone came through the air, from nowhere in particular.

She was taken to Mass. General, by the Boston Police. No ambulance was available, so Pat was hauled off in the Paddy Wagon.

After the injury was treated Pat returned, this time to the Science Museum, to hear out the concert. Presumably, if anything was to fly through the air in that area it would not be a stone, but a thunderbolt.

Ipswich River natural resources study starts

A survey of natural resources along the Ipswich River is being planned by the US Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service, preparatory to the issuance of regulations designed to protect the watershed, by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Environmental Management.

The study will include soils, water, forest, wild life, and scenic resources, and it is hoped to include the services of local officals and citizens, plus some interns, who are to assist the local officials. The first step will be a mapping of ownership to within 100 yards of the river. The value of the lands along the river is expected to increase, the Soil Conservation Service seems to think, as a result of the new regulations.

The Ipswich River Watershed Association, of which Wilmington is a part, is to have a meeting on July 22 (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. in Room 201 (Berry Hall) of the Essex Agricultural Station in Hathorne to discuss mapping plans. Assisting will be Reading Conservation Commission Assistant Dave Galvin.

Lawrence Morse, in Reading (944-6491) at 243 Main Street may be called for information. Citizen interest may be indicated by letters to Betty Woody, State Commissioner of Environmental Management, 100 Cambridge Street, Boston, 02202.

The committee in charge of the Bicentennial parade, in Wilmington, made a very good choice when it choose the North School for the starting or assembly point of the parade.

Salem Street, in front of the old Capt. Cadwallader Ford, home goes in two directions. Marchers can assemble at Arlene Avenue, at Frederick Drive, or in the spacious driveway and parking lot of the North School, and assemble on signal.

Boy Scout donation from Golden Agers

A few weeks ago the Town Crier carried a story about the need for money, in the Greater Lowell Council of Boy Scouts. The Scout Council is a large one, and has many activities, more than can be supported with their current income.

This week there was a donation, as a result of that story. It wasn't tremendous, but it wasn't small, either. The Greater Lowell Council is receiving a check for $50 from the Wilmington Golden Age Club.

Bicentennial salute

The Wilmington Recreation Department playground drama program will present a musical comedy entitled "Sing Out Sweet Land" as a bicentennial salute on August 18. There will be two performances, one at 2 p.m. for all children registered at the playgrounds and one at 7:30 p.m. for all adults at the Wilmington High School auditorium. Admission is free to all Wilmington residents.

All skaters will wear face protection next season

The Wilmington Skating Club has announced that all skaters, in all three programs this fall, will be required to wear face protection while on the ice.

Full face protection means full face shield, half shield and external mouth guard, or full face cage. The protection will be required for all skaters in the three hockey programs, Intramural, Clinic and Town Teams, and for all club sponsored activities on the ice - league games, intramural games, practices and clinics.

Full face protection is now required by the Amateur Hockey Association and all the Wilmington Youth Ice Arena Leagues.

Camp Forty Acres

:LAST Tuesday the children of Camp Forty Acres were invited to swim at the pool of Mr. and Mrs. Giroux of Aldrich Road. They arrived about 10:30 and spent the entire day swimming.

On Wednesday the day was spent at the camp ground preparing for Thursday night's sleep out.

On Thursday the children arrived at noon all set for the big night ahead. They were divided into five groups and each had to think of a name, make a banner and think up a song. Supper was served around 5:30. Hamburgers, hotdogs, and potato chips were enjoyed by all. Two members of the Wilmington Police Department stopped in for a visit and brought the children coke and peanuts. After supper the childred gathered wood for the camp fire, set up their sleeping bags and went on a scavanger hunt. After the fire was lit a talent show was held and then marshmallows were roasted.

On Friday the children woke up around 6 a.m. and ate breakfast. A clean-up was held and everyone left around 9:30.

Boutwell

On Tuesday the Woburn Street Wipeouts invaded the Boutwell Schools. In boys' softball, the Hornets fell to the Woburn Street by a score of 14 - 3, despite the offensive efforts of George Boudreau.

Greg MacDonald, Kevin Dicey and Jim Harkins each had two hits. The little boys' softball taem lost by a score of 5 - 0 even though Chris Dindo and Dan Duffey turned in fine defensive play. In street hockey, it was 1 - 1 with the lone team goal going to George Boudreau with the assist from Jimmy Harkins. The junior boys lost 5 - 2 despite a two-goal showing by Tom Craig. The Hornettes won their softball game by a score of 17-12 under strong pitching by Cindy Duffy and they won again 8 - 6 in street hockey. Laurie Hayden had a hat trick for the Hornettes.

On Wednesday, the family cookout provided a good time for everyone who attended. After the cookout, there was a water balloon fight and a softball game.

On Monday the 19th the Wildwood School will be at the Boutwell for softball and hockey. The Olympics will be held on the 20th and 21st of this week. The week will end with a movie day on Friday, and the finals in the Olympics on Saturday.

Glen Road

Thie week the Glen Road playground travelled to the North for inter-playground activities. The boys won their softball game, but Shelley DeCoste's home run wasn't enough to win the game for the girls. Cheryl Branscombe and Joey Pellitier were chosen as sportsmen of the day. They were treated to lunch at McDonalds' on Friday.

On Wednesday in arts and crafts, clothespin dolls were made and at lunchtime 17 pizzas disappeared quickly as the youngsters enjoyed a pizza party.

All week the children had been working on building their soap boxes and on Thursday entered the derby. John McLaughlin and Richie DeCoste made it all the way to the finals.

The Kids' Stuff program was very successful on Friday. While the youngsters were given special attention, the older children were involved in various activities.

Next week's events include a jungle breakfast, Olympics, with score favoring the Boutwell 8 - 6. Scorers were Patty Robson, Beatruce Cutone and Anne Ryan. In softball, Donna Robson and April Smallidge played strongly defensively, but it was not enough to stop Boutwell offense.

Thanks go to families who attended the Almost Anything Goes family night and to Mr. and Mrs. Aprile for making the fun pool day possible.

Shawsheen

Leaders Vin Scifo, Leslie Spear, Robert Sferrazza and Terry Clifford are grateful to all the parents of the Shawsheen Purple People Eaters for making the family night cookout a huge success.

A second place was managed by the boys in the 11 and 12 old division.

Last Tuesday the Shawsheen travelled to the Wildwood School for inter-playground games. The boys dominated in softball behind the pitching of Jay Barret in the younger division while the power hitting of Brian McLean and Robbie Santos led the 11 and 12 year old boys.

The girls won their street hockey game 7 - 0 with top scorer Eileen Woods putting five goals past the Shawsheen goalkeeper to help lead the attack.

Friday, July 16 will be Hippie Day at the playground to finish up the third successful week of the summer program.

Wildcats, 10-Mavericks, 6

Bill Liston pitched another fine game against the Mavericks, which is always a tough game when the two teams from the town play.

Bill had 10 strike-outs and gave up only four hits for his fourth win.

The boys had their hitting shoes on for this game. Todd Richards, lead-off batter had 4/5 rbi; Bill Liston 3/5 a triple 5 rbi; Mark Hurley 2/3 triple, three rbi; Paul Bush a triple; Dan McLaughlin a double, rbi; Gary Hastings a single.

Rockets, 7-Wildcats, 8

Neil Wetzler started off for the Wildcats and in all fairness, the boys had a bad day in the field. Two errors in the first and sixth inning got the pitcher in a lot of trouble, so he was called in favor of Bill Liston in the sixth to save the game for the Wildcats.

This game was like something out of a story book; just before the game started, the North Reading Red Sox had lost their first game.

The boys came from behind twice, down to runs in the second inning. Don McLaughlin lined a double down the left field line to score two runs; move to third base on the play at the plate and scored on a wild pitch. In the sixth, down again by two runs, 7 - 5, Gary Hastings on first, Mark Hurley lined a triple down the left field line to score Gary, to make the score 7 - 6. Paul Bush 2/3 singled to center to score Mark and make it 7 - 7.

Paul Stole second base, to set the stage for Bill Liston to double down the left field. The ball landing on the line scored Paul and made it 8 - 7 and Liston got the Rockets out in the seventh

Joe Kennedy III visits Wilmington

Senator Ted Kennedy faces opposition from within the Democratic ranks in the September 14 primaries. There are four challengers, Attorney Robert E. Dinsmore of Milton; Frederick Langone of the Boston City Council, also an attorney; Albert J. Onessimo of Somerville, a real estate broker; and Bernard Shannon of Stoughton, father of 12 and an activist in the "right to life" movement.

Dinsmore, Langone and Onessimo are expected to offer opposition in the court-ordered busing controversy.

The Massachusetts senator had over 100,000 signatures when nomination papers were filed a few weeks ago. Joseph Kennedy III, a nephew, is one of his workers.

He is the son of the late Bob Kennedy, and a grandfather of Joseph Kennedy, the former Ambassador to Britain. An uncle, Joseph Kennedy II, was killed in World War II.

Last Friday he was in Wilmington, to thank the Wilmington members of the Kennedy committee. Anne Visconti (658-3991) is the chairman. Young Joe spent an hour with the committee, at the Shelley home on Atlantic Avenue.

Baptist Church to present "So Long, Joey!"

So Long Joey! is the title of a film which is to be shown on July 21, at 6:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Wilmington.

The film documents the true life story of Dave Boyer who adopted the stage name Joey Stevens in order to pursue a career in the entertainment world.

The son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Boyer, Dave's career boomed while his personal life became a nightmare of alcoholism and drug addiction. In a drunken stupor, he wandered the streets of Marietta, Penn., contemplating suicide when the blurred view of a little old church caused him to cry out for salvation to the Savior.

Dave's current ministry is broad in scope. A gifted vocalist, he is also a superb saxophonist and weaves his talents into a program that penetrates the hearts of his audiences.

The film was shot on location in Eastern Pennsylvania and in Atlantic City. It is being released by Gospel Films, Inc. of Muskegon, Michigan.

Women's Club President gets to Philadelphia too

Only Mrs. Dayton traveled by car accompanied by Mrs. Howard MacKilligan, the president of the Reading Woman's Club. Both ladies were delegates, from their respective clubs, to the 85th general Federation of Women's Clubs Annual Meeting held at the old but elegant Bellevue Stratfort Hotel in downtown Philadelphia on June 13 through the 18.

Not since 1926, when Mrs. Philip Buzzell of North Wilmington was president of the Wilmington Women's Club and was invited to the Tercentenial Celebration of our Country by President Theodore Roosevelt, has one of the club presidents traveled to Philadelphia. It was an exciting and a "once in a lifetime experience."

Flag Day was celebrated on June 12 at the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge. A huge flag 20' x 30' was dedicated. A special ceremony, a tour, and a luncheon was enjoyed. A gorgeous day with the bluest sky for that lovely flag to be unfurled, was a signt long to be remembered.

Church services on Sunday morning were held at the famous Asbury Church of St. George's Methodist, similar to Boston's Old North Church.

Sunday evening the 13 original colony states hostessed a huge banquet with some 1,000 women attending and enjoying the Philadelphia Boy's Choir. A special surprise was the arrival of the Australian Boy's Choir for the Bicentennial Celebration.

Eight o'clock Monday morning saw the opening of the annual meeting of the General Federation under the music tent of Independence Mall, with a "God and Country" presentation. From that moment on, 2,2226 women from all over the country and several foreign countries met and heard tremendous speakers and reports; planned and voted on programs and officers to start the first two years of the third century on a challenging road of endeavors; and enjoyed each evening filled with music and creative arts.

Mrs. Harry Wagner Jr., of Arizona who was installed as president of the General Federation for 76-78 chose as her logo the miraculous Phoenix Bird to help us to arise! Activate Dreams" especially on the International and Arts level because, as she said, "all that will remain when we are gone to spell out how truly great has been our opportunity to live in this fast-moving, fast changing world will be the arts. We are moving from a world of abundance to one of increasing scarcity, therefore we will need to help all nations. Men and women alike need to assume roles of leadership. It is the volunteer sector of society that will correct the problems. We have more volunteers giving of their time than we have paid employees. America was born because of volunteers!"

How better a way to undergird and implement, Mrs. John W. Holland of Falmouth who is the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs President's theme for 76-78, "Concern, Courage and Committment for a Better World" than to have been inspired by the challenges received in Philadelphia especially in a Bicentennial Year.

William Dayton met his wife at the end of the General Federation meeting, in Philadelphia, where they both joined in the festivities of the lovely wedding for their niece Gail Ann Nary to Mark Miles at the Upland Baptist Church in Upland County, Pennsylvania. Miss Nary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nary of Kingston, N.H., and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nary Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dayton Sr., formerly of Wilmington. Mr. Miles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miles of Wallingford, Penn.

CADETTE GIRL SCOUTS: Diane Dalton and Heather Andersen of Wilmington, enjoying a three-day visit at Camp Sacajawea, in West Boxford, July 6-9.

Housing for the elderly

Gov. Dukakis got the message

Governor Michael Dukakis had a "town meeting" in Woburn June 23 and one of the messages delivered to him was that Wilmington has only 40 units of Housing for the Elderly, with 1700 persons in town eligible for such housing. There was a total of about 80 persons at the "town meeting" which was held in Woburn High School. About half of those present were from Wilmington, with members of the Wilmington Housing Authority aand the Wilmington Council of Aging doing the speaking.

Henry Borazzo, Executive Director of the Wilmington Housing Authority said that Wilmington has been frustrated in its efforts to get housing for the elderly. One hundred and ten units had been promised to be allocated to Wilmington at about the time the Governor took office, but nothing has been done, and the program has been stalled.

George Hooper, Chairman of the Housing Authority presented the Governor with a petition for Housing for the Elderly to which there were over 1000 signatures. He told Dukakis that the state should stand up and listen to Wilmington.

There are only 40 units available for the elderly and those are 20 years old. There is a list of applicants of 200 persons, who seek to live in one of the units for the elderly at the Housing Authority.

There have been only three tenant chances since he became a member of the board, Hooper said.

The Housing Authority does not discourage the senior citizens from applying, but it has to say that their names will be added to the list.

The Governor stated that neither Nixon nor Ford had allocated money for housing, and that Massachusetts was the only state to do so. It is the only state with a state-funded program for elderly housing.

"We keep on passing these programs and then we don't know how to fund them. Next year alone I'll have to find an additional $30 million for the '78 budget. I found a project in Newton where the cost per unit was $76,000. That's very high. We have 14 thousand substandard units in operation now, and two thousand of these have come into the "abandoned" category.

The Governor promised nothing, but said he was sympathetic to the situation. He said he would review the situation when the 1978 budget was being discussed, next week.

The money that the state has, he said, is allocated throughout the state to reconstruct present housing, and a lot of money has been promised for new housing. He was a total agreement with the Wilmington Housing Authority that there should have been more than 40 units constructed in 20 years.

Wilson Belbin and Grace Bourbeau were among the Senior Citizens present; and the Wilmington Housing Authority, Barbara Larson and Lorraine Brozynya.

Chestnut Street is more than picturesque

Chestnut Street is more than pictuesque. That word can mean that a street is crooked, and that it winds around small hills through land that was once farm land, and is largely wooded.

It is a country road that is not amenable to high speed traffic. There are some small streams, there are meadows. There is a gold club. There has not been much real estate development. The zoning is "rural" which means that individual house lots are to be of 60,000 square feet. This, among other things, has discouraged the building of homes.

It is in this area that the Garden of Eden Country Club lies. That country club was formed nearly 20 years ago, by Millard Pipes. Mr. Pipes is now in Florida. He laid out a nine hole golf course, and started his enterprise. Cannily, two of the nine holes were on his private property, not a part of the country club, and when Mr. Pipes lost control of the country club, he still owned a lot of land along Chestnut Street, southerly of Mill Road. That land is now being sold to developers.

Mill Road, which was the northerly bound, in part, of the land owned by Pipes, is a crooked thing that winds over Wood Hill into Burlington. It is the first road of record, in what is now Wilmington.

A year or so past the Selectmen held public hearings for Mill Road, with reference to the Official Map of Wilmington. These hearings in effect by-pass the Planning Board, and allow streets to be constructed that are not in conformance with the regulations of the Planning Board.

The selectmen, in their wisdom, in approving of the plans for Mill Road, as it is to be constructed, also made provisions to protect a small stream that crosses Mill Road, and flows on down to Mill Brook, in the golf course, and then under Chestnut Street to join up with the waters of Maple Meadow Brook.

Further, easterly, is the Chestnut Street wellfield. This was discussed in the Town Crier a few weeks ago. It was shut down on one occasion, because of pollution in the water.

Further, southerly, is Hillside Way, where dwells, among others, Peter Enos. Mr. Enos is frequently heard discussing the problems of the town in town meeting. He is a member of the Board of Appeals.

The Jackson Brothers, Wilmington builders, have purchased a long strip of land along Chestnut Street, part of the Pipes land which was kept from the golf course. The Planning Board, two or three weeks ago signed plans for the 10 houselots proposed. They could do nothing else. The plans were signed under the provision of the law that "no approval is necessary." The land is on an accepted street.

Because the street is so crooked none of the boundary lines, as proposed meet Chestnut Street at a right angle. The Wilmington bylaws state all boundaries shall be at right angles to the street. That means the Jackson Brothers must have a Board of Appeals hearing, which was scheduled for July 13 (Tuesday).

Meanwhile there is some construction started. The Jackson Brothers got permits to construct on the lot near Mill Road, and all the rest of the property constitutes another lot, so they can construct one more home as things stand, without a Board of Appeals hearing.

On Monday night Pete Enos appeared before the Selectmen. Mr. Enos raised questions about the possible pollution of the well field, half a mile or more away.

Monday night was not one of the selectmen's better nights. They were inclined to worry issues, the way a puppy will worry an old shoe. Mr. Enos appeared at just the right time for them.

After he had made his opening statement Selectman Banda recalled the rulings concerning the small brook and Mill Road. He believed those rulings to be applicable to Chestnut Street too. The date, he said, was May 20, 1975.

Gillis declared he was not going to fight the building of the homes. There were 60,000 foot lots, and the ruling on the brook was on Mill Street not Chestnut Street.

There was a general pandemonium for a few minutes, then Miceli proposed that the selectmen oppose the granting of the variances re lot lines and right angles to the street, Tuesday evening. Gillis was opposed. It was a four to one vote.

Enos made a small speech about the well field being polluted and Miceli spoke up to say there had been a meeting of people in the area. Aldo Caira wanted toknow if the people had been to the Board of Health. Had Ernie Romano, the health officer looked at it (the land)? Had there been any coordination with the state (health officials)?

Chairman Boylen said he was not enthused about calling in state officials. Why not get a report on what is going on?

Enos spoke up to say he could smell sewerage. Maybe he was talking of Hillside Way, it was not certain.

Banda wanted to know how the Board of Health had approved the lots. Caira said the selectmen should call up Ken Tarbell, State health official at the Tewksbury Hospital. There were statements on how water pollution could occur.

The hearing

The Board of Appeals hearing Tuesday evening saw Mr. Enos appearing as a witness, instead of as a member of the board.

The discussion at first was about the lot lines, and the land in back. Fred Jackson said he had no intentions of trying to put in a housing development behind the homes. The cost for the street would be too great. He would try, he said, to sell the land behind the homes to the purchasers of the homes.

There was more discussion. Dr. Biggar, of the old Bell Farmhouse was disturbed because of the ten potential driveways to come out on Chestnut Street. He reminded the board that every additional home means a little more, too, in costs to the town.

Dr. Biggar discussed briefly the water, and iron content. The chairman declared it to be 'not relevant'. Fred Jackson testified it was 1320 feet to the well field from the side of Chestnut Street opposite to where he proposes to build.

When Peter Enos attempted to discuss the possibilities of sewer troubles he was ruled out of order. The chairman declared the hearing was relative to issues on zoning.

Enos attempted to introduce the 'restrictions' which, he said, went with the land that the Jackson Brothers had bought. Jackson's attorney, Joseph Courtney, told the board that there were conditions imposed on the proposed developments off Mill Road, but those restricitions had nothing to do with the area being discussed.

WILMINGTON SENIOR CITIZENS: New flag, which was revealed for the first time last week. It is the only Community Senior Citizens flag in the country, all others being flags for local clubs.

Dr. Carlton A. Eddy prominent scientist

Dr. Carlton A. Eddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan G. Eddy of 500 Woburn St., Wilmington, has been named in this year's American Men and Women of Science, a biographical listing of prominent American scientists, for his contributions to the field of reproductive physiology and the development of microsurgical procedures to restore fertility to women.

Dr. Eddy, a graduate of Wilmington High, Class of 1961, is an assistant professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Texas School of Medicine at San Antonio. He also holds an appointment as assistant professor of Physiology in the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio.

Dr. Eddy Germany this summer at the invitation of the University of Essen School of Medicine to address an international gathering of scientists convened to discuss current research in human reproduction.

Dr. Eddy, his wife Barbara, and their two sons Adam, four and Ethan, two live in San Antonio. Although they enjoy being Texans, the family plans to eventually "go back east" to set up permanent residence.

UNHAPPY ABOUT ROUTE 129: The selectmen were visited, Monday night, by three Shawsheen Avenue residents who had a tale about truck noises, at 4 am. The blamed the noises, in part at least, on the new Route 129 bridge.
